

Joining the EDC-Free Europe Coalition as a campaign partner organisation

About us

EDC-Free Europe is a coalition of public interest groups representing more than 70 environmental, health, women's and consumer groups across Europe who share a concern about hormone disrupting chemicals (EDCs) and their impact on our health and wildlife.

Campaign partners include trade unions, consumers, public health and healthcare professionals, advocates for cancer prevention, environmentalists and women's groups. A full list of current members is available on our website. The campaign is also supported by over 11.000 individuals across 78 countries.

Most position papers and communication work are written in seven major European languages. An example of how we make our materials available in multiple languages is our position paper 'Eight demands for an EDC-Free Europe' (available in EN – ES - DE - FR - NL).

What we want

Our aim is to raise awareness on the health and environmental impacts of endocrine disrupting chemicals and urge faster governmental action to drastically reduce exposure of people and wildlife to endocrine disrupting chemicals. We believe this will also drive innovation for safer chemicals and products, which will in turn create a healthier future for all.

How your organisation can support and contribute to the EDC-Free Europe campaign

If your organisation is interested in joining the campaign and benefiting from the synergies of information exchange and joint initiatives on for effective reduction of exposure to endocrine disrupting chemicals, please fill in the form below and send it to sandra@edc-free-europe.org.
